

Latest Reddit Tech Posts

r/science

Struggles with masculinity drive men into incel communities. Incels, or “involuntary celibates,” are men who feel denied relationships and sex due to an unjust social system, sometimes adopting misogynistic beliefs and even committing acts of violence.

URL: https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g7g1yo/struggles_with_masculinity_drive_men_into_incel/

Author: mvea | Score: 5867 | Comments: 1435

Research found that cycling and high intensity interval training (HIIT) produced the most consistent effects in improvement of memory, attention, executive function, information processing and other cognitive functions.

URL:

https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g75sts/research_found_that_cycling_and_high_intensity/

Author: Wagamaga | Score: 4752 | Comments: 94

Use of GPS might reduce environmental knowledge and sense of direction

URL: https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g73l8c/use_of_gps_might_reduce_environmental_knowledge/

Author: chilladipa | Score: 4538 | Comments: 293

Many voters are willing to accept misinformation from political leaders, even when they know it’s factually inaccurate, and recognize when it’s not based on objective evidence. Yet they still respond positively, if they believe these inaccurate statements evoke a deeper, more important “truth.”

URL: https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g70yed/many_voters_are_willing_to_accept_misinformation/

Author: mvea | Score: 7369 | Comments: 620

A new replication study revisits the claim that women governors during COVID-19 achieved better outcomes, including fewer deaths. The study shows that earlier findings are highly sensitive to specific assumptions, and once adjusted, gender has no significant impact on COVID-19 deaths.

URL: https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g75ps8/a_new_replication_study_revisits_the_claim_that/

Author: mvea | Score: 1903 | Comments: 186

The origins of why we love carbs predate agriculture and maybe even our split from Neanderthals. New study finds the gene for starch-digesting saliva may have first duplicated more than 800,000 years ago, seeding the genetic variation that shapes our modern diet.

URL:

https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g7pmlg/the_origins_of_why_we_love_carbs_predate/

Author: mvea | Score: 70 | Comments: 3

Researchers identified two neuron types that trigger REM sleep, forming circuits that connect to brain regions controlling cerebral cortex activation, rapid eye movement, and muscle tone loss. Artificially activating this circuit strongly induces REM sleep, even in awake mice https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g78tgn/researchers_identified_two_neuron_types_that/

URL:

Author: giuliomagnifico | Score: 871 | Comments: 30

A study found a strong link between using handheld cellphones and risky driving behaviors among newly licensed teen drivers. Over one-third of their trips involved handheld cellphone use, and speeding occurred in more than 40% of the trips

URL:

https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g7azj1/a_study_found_a_strong_link_between_using/

Author: giuliomagnifico | Score: 508 | Comments: 41

New photonic computing method uses electromagnetic waves to solve partial differential equations rapidly: Researchers develop a network of interconnected waveguides filled with dielectric inserts, which mimics the behavior of traditional circuit elements.

URL: https://www.reddit.com/r/science/comments/1g7bu3i/new_photonic_computing_method_uses/

Author: FunnyGamer97 | Score: 151 | Comments: 2

r/technology

X's controversial changes to blocking and AI training sees half a million users leave for rival Bluesky – which then crashes under the strain

URL:

https://www.reddit.com/r/technology/comments/1g7i5lj/xs_controversial_changes_to_blocking_and_ai/

Author: twotimefind | Score: 7873 | Comments: 634